Five Lives Lost in a Factory Fire in Chicago.

The Remarkable Act of Gallant Fire Captain Hermanson-While Balancing Himself on a Ladder He Caught a Falling Girl and Carried Her to the Street.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The interior of the Exchange building, a seven story struc-Ture at the corner of Van Buren and Franklin strets, was destroyed by fir. yesterday, entading a loss of $575,011 upon the owners and temants of the building and causing the loss of five lives, the fatar injury of two others and the injury of st. other people all of whom are expected to かいとうないか

The firemen were grashed by falling 6: bris. Kittie Landgraf jumped from the fourth story wind in and was injured internally. She died at County hospital.

Garry Neil jumped from the fourth story window. He was internally injured and had his left arm broken and will prob ably die. Nellie Turner jumped from a third story window and received internal injuries that will prove fatal. The following were overcome by smoke. but will recover Aggie McClain, Olga Kellar, Hatti Brennan, Edna Ritter and Mary Pink, Daniel McN. My, driver of No. 3 engine, was buried beneath the debris, but will recover.

It was a few minut's before 9 o'clock when Rose Brue's employed by Stern & Beirs, wholesale clothiers, noticed that the corriders were filling with smake. She ran into the workroom, where thirty girls were working, and alarmed them. Instantly there was confusion. Although every effort was made to control the frightened girls, several opened the windows and climbed out on the ledges. One of the first to do this was Nellie Turner. She screamed for help, and some one on the ground shouted for her to jump. She grasped the escape and swing herself off from the stone ledge on which she had stood, and hundreds on the street cheered She do cended and Officer Flaherty, who was on the fire escape, started up to assist tried to catch her, but failed. She was picked up unconscious. The escape of Olga Kellar is regarded as marveleus. She was employed by Stein & Biers, and when the room where she was working began to fill with smoke she ran to one of the windows overlooking Van Buren street. She threw up the sash and climbed out on the ledge, clinging with one hand to the narrow strip of wood on the outside of the sash. She saw a few feet below her the ladder on which two firemen

Great volumes of smoke poured out of the window where the girl stood, and at times her form was entirely obscured Cheer after cheer went up for Captain Hermanson as he climbed up. He had almost reached the girl when he heard her scream, and as he looked up he saw her reel and release her hold on the window siding. She had been overcome by the smoke, and had fallen. Captain Hermanson braced himself, and, as the unconscious form dropped, he seized it with his right arm. The effort nearly cost him his own life, for he narrowly escaped falling. FINANCE AND TRADE. Prices Are Lower, Without Disturbance or Sign of Panle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: There is no reaction in business. Efforts to explain it, or to attribute it to this or that temporary miluence, are all wasted. In every business, men now perceive the fact that the purchases in advance of current distribution, which were made when prices were booming, involved of necessity a season of halting when the rise stopped, and until the actual demand for consumption has been measured.

Products are lower, without disturbance or sign of panic. The more sober estimates of wheat months ago rose 59,000,000 or more above the government and speculative guesses, and now a reputable estimare of 475 (90,00) bushels excites little remark. The cotton market has been assisted all the week by small receipts and remarkably stiff statements of scarcity, but has gained a sixteenth, though some think short receipts were deliberately organized by planters. It begins to be a decisive fact that exports are small. Bradstreets review says: The check to general trade which has been conspicuous for the past few weeks still continues. Unseasonably mild weather and rains have intensified this feature, which is more conspicuous south, where the decline in the price of cotton and consequent check to shipments are held to be partly responsible. But the demand for staples increases on the appearance of seasonably cold weather, the result being larger orders for woolens, shoes, rubbers and holiday spe-

INVESTIGATORS INVESTIGATING.

Though Moving Slowly, the Pennsylvania Senators Age Developing i . That Should Lead to Arrests, Prosecution and Imprisonment-Dishonest Payrolls.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23. - Yesterday's session of the senate investigating committee at the city hall was productive of the most sensational testimony yet heard, serious charges being made against Samuel McKee, a carpenter and builder, and also employed as a bridge foreman on city work. The name of Bridge Superintendent C. A. Trik was also mixed up in the

The charges against McKee were the outcome of testimony given by General Agent Addis, and Thomas Warren and Frederick H. Roll, formerly employed as laborers on bridge work, and went to show that McKee swindled the city out of considerable money from May to September of this year.

Agent Addis produced papers he swore were correct copies of eight payrolls, covering that period, to which were attached afildavits of Superintendent Trik that they were correct. According to the payroll-Warren and Roll received 😂 perday. Both men denied receiving that amount. Warren said he got but $2 per day, and Roll said he received only $1.50. The latter did not know he should have received $3 until yesterday's inquiry developed the fact.

The men said McKee paid them their wages, and Warren added that he always held a blotter over the figures on the payrolls. The latter witness also said that two of McKee's sons were employed as apprentices at $5 a week. The payrolls showed these were each paid $3 a day.

The other testimony before the committee was of the same character as that given on Thursday. in which contractors for street paving and garbage collection failed to comply with the specifications.

E. F. Henson, who had been on the stand before, was recalled. He produced three photographs of pier No. 30, the first of which showed lumber vessels which were being unloaded, and eight carts loaded with garbage. Several of these carts were wooden ones and the others were of iron, but all were owned and used by the Philadelphia Incinerating company.

The second was another view of the same scene, and the third showed the garbage hanging over the side of the barge loaded with refuse and dropping into the water.

The witness then went on to say that the cost of removing the garbage by means of the scows from Callowhill and Poplar street wharves was at the rate of $5 a day for each of the six scows used. The towage to Hog Island and return to the wharves was about $10 every two days. while the wages of the men necessary to do the work of trimming and unloading the garbage would amount to about $18 a

In this way the company did the work for the average cost of $1,742 per month, when, by incinerating the refuse, the cost to it would have been $5,980, at the rate of $1 per load. By loading the garbage on the scows, the witness said, it saved in the First district $1.030 and in the Fifth dis trict $1.549 in one month. Mr. Henson did not know positively what became of the garbage after it left the wharf, but supposed that it was deposited on Hog Island,

Frank P. Myers was called and asked if he had ever had anything to do with the removal of garbage from Chestnut Hill. The witness in answer proceeded to read from a written statement, which set forth that he had been fighting the garbage nut sance for four or five years past. He dwelt with emphasis on the dumping of garbage in the vicinity of the Bethesda Home. The action taken by him was in the interest of the home alone.

Silas W. Petrit, the committee's counsel, was on hand vesterday for the first time. and assisted Lawyer Freedley, and at Lawyer Pettit's request the committee adjourned until next Tuesday week.

An Insane Judge.

Thenton, Nov. 23.-Judge John A. Me Grath, of the Second district court. Jerse City, who was in his place on the bench as usual vesterday morning, was brought to the state asylum for the insune last night in charge of two constables. When the judge opened court he behaved irrationally, as he had done for two days previous. The chief of police got the judge into his office and the necessary papers were signed by the doctors and members of his family for his commitment to the asylum. Judge McGrath has been a prominent man in Jersey City for many years. Besides his judicial position he is attorney to the county council and a trustee for considerable property. For many years he was a member of the board of education. He served with distinction in the war.

The small garrison defending Guinia de Miranda made a heroic defense.

NOTED MISSIONARY DEAD. Rev. Dr. Van Dyck, Who Translated the Bible Into Arabic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 .- News has been received in New York of the sudden death in Beyrout, Syria, of Rev. Dr. Cornelius V. A. Van Dyck, the translator of the Bible into Arabic, and perhaps the foremost Arabic scholar in the world. Besides the Bible Dr. Van Dyck translated many valuable other books into Arabic. His last great work was the translation of General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" into Arabic. This was completed before his death, but the manuscript is unpublished. The Turkish authorities are trying to obtain possession of the manuscript to destroy it. The result is that the book will not be published for some time, and when it appears it will be outside of Turkey.

The influence of Dr. Van Dyck's life among the Syrians has been and will be felt for many years. He was an expert physician, and was engaged in humanitarian work up to a few months of his

Dr. Van Dyck was a native of Kinder-hook, N. Y. He was born Aug. 13, 1818. Both his father and mother were Dutch. He was educated in the Kinderhook academy, and afterward he went to Philade! phia to attend the Jefferson Medical college. He became identified with the Dutch Reformed church, and on graduating from college, at the age of 20, he offered himself to the American board of foreign missions as a missionary.

He reached Syria for the first time in the early part of 1840, and he had not been there long before the need of an adequate version of scriptures in the Syrian language became apparent to him. Many honors were paid Dr. Van Dyck, and he was decorated by the sultan of Turkey.

EMIGRANTS AS SMUGGLERS.

Consul Chancellor, at Havre, Sends a Com plaint to Washington.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 -For some time there has been strongly grounded suspicion in the minds of United States customs officials along the Atlantic scaboard in general, and at the port of Baltimore in particular, that smuggling was carried on systematically through the medium of emigrants coming to this country as steerage passengers of trans-Atlantic vessels This suspicion has likewise arisen in the minds of American consuls at foreign ports, and has finally caused official complaint to be made to the state department at Washington, by Dr. C. W. Chancellor. United States consul at the port of Havre, France.

Consul Chancellor, in his official communication upon the subject states that from time to time, at Havre, discovery has been made of valuables secreted among the baggage or other personal effects of embarking steerage passengers. For example, costly Oriental rugs, valued at as much as $100 or more each, would be found among what purported to be the emigrants' bedding. The insufficient means at hand at the port of departure for determining in all cases the extent of such a condition of things has left to conjecture, it seems, the real magnitude of the imposition. Notice has been served at all Atlantic ports where emigrants enter in large num bors, and no resources of the government secret service will be left untaxed to ascertain the extent of the newly discovered species of smuggling and break it up.

DEBS' DELIVERANCE.

The A. R. U. Strike Leader's Frantic Reception at Chicago.

WARMLY GREETED BY THOUSANDS

Sarried on the Shoulders of Four Men to a Hall a Wile Distant from the Station, · Where He Delivers a Characteristic Address-He Is Done with Strikes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23. - Eugene V. Debs spoke in Central Music Hall last night to an audience that taxed the seating and standing capacity of that hall. Most of the leading labor organizations were represented, and the reception accorded to the leader of the American Railway union was enthusiastic in the extreme.

Eight carloads of Debs' friends went down to Woodstock to greet him on his release from jail, and several thousand men were at the station of the Northwestern road when the train bearing Debs and his friends arrived at 7:30 o'clock. The reception of Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the frantic. Hundreds of men pushed and struggled to get a grasp of his hands, many of them hugged him, and some went to the extent of kissing him. Finally he was tossed upon the shoulders of four men and, followed by a dense throng that never for an instant stopped its shouting, he was escorted to the hall, about a mile distant. The warmth of the reception at the dupot was repeated when he entered the half. The speech de-livered by Mr. Debs, which was received with much applause by the audience, was in substance as follows: He commenced by saying that in the light of recent judicial proceedings he stood stripped of his constitutional rights as a free man, and shorn of the most sacred prorogative of American citizenship; and what was true of himself was true of every other citizen who had the temerity to protest against corporation rule, or question the absolute sway of the money power. It was not the law or the administration of the law of which he complained. It was the flagrant violation of the constitution, the total abrogation of law, and the usurpation of judicial and despotic power by virtue of which he and his colleagues were committed to jail against which he entered his protest. He had been denied a trial. He was charged now with conspiracy, and if guilty should go to the penitentiary. He wanted to be tried by a jury of his peers, and all he asked was a fair trial and no favor. The conspiracy case is still undisposed of in the United States court].

He then spoke at great length of personal liberty and in defense of the Ameri-Railway union, saving it would have triamphed but for the interference of the federal authorities, which he characterized as "an exhibition of the debauching power of money."

This demonstration, he said, meant that the American lovers of liberty were setting in operation forces to rescue their constitutional liberties from the grasp of monopoly and its mercenary hirelings; thatthe people were aroused, in view of impending perils, and that agitation, organization and unification were to be the future buttle cries of men who would not part with their birthright. Were he a criminal, guilty of crimes meriting a prison cell, had he ever lifted his hand against the life or liberty of his fellow men, leid he ever sought to fileh their good name, he would not be on the platform. He would have fled from the haunts of civilization and starved in a cave, where the voice of his kindred was never hear ! But he was standing before his heavers without a self accusation of crime or criminal intent fostering in his conscience, in the smalight once more, contributing as best he could to make this "Liberation Day" a memorial day.

Before leaving the jail yesterday Mr. Debs rejterated his assertion that he would never again accept money from a labor orempiration for services rendered. He intends to earn his living by publishing a weekly industrial paper, of which he will be the editor also. First, however, in response to many requests, he will make speeches in most of the big cities of the country. "I never intend to accept another political office," said he. "I have one desire only, and that is the unification of labor. To that end I shall devote my life. Under no circumstance will I ever again lead a strike."

COMPOSER RUSSELL'S LONG CAREER.

He Wrote "Cheer, Boys, Cheer," "Old Uncle Ned" and Other Popular Songs. Millions have been made happy for an hour by the songs of Dr. Henry Russell, the veterau composer who is still living at the ripe old age of $4 in London. He was born in 1811 at Sheerness, England, and made his first appearance on the stage when but 3 years old. An actor named Beverly borrowed him for one night to officiate as the infant in the play "Pizarro." When he was 6 years old, his father took him to London, where he studied music and finally became a member of the Eliston Children's Opera company, the first of the kind ever organized. King George IV of England heard of the talented young singers and commanded them to play before him at the Pavilion, then a royal palace. After the performance he kissed each of the children, took young Russell on his knee and predicted a bright future for him. "There are few living men can boast of having sat on the knee of the last of the Georges, eh?" jocularly remarked the veteran composer to a eporter recently.

When a young man, he came to America and spent many years in the States. He wrote numerous songs that achieved universal popularity, but did not enrich him. He sold "Woodman, Spare That Tree, ' for $2, and his mumortal "Cheer Boys, Cheer," brought him $5. After the latter song made a hit the publishers, who were ranning 16 printing presses night and day in order to supply the demand for the popular air, sent him a check for $50, "and," he says, "doubtless thought themselves very lib-

While in America he wrote a great many negro melodies, "Coal Black tais up Rose," "Buffalo Girls, Come Out To-night," "Lucy Long," "Old Uncle Ned," "Get Out of the Way, Old Dan Tucker," and others, and established a worldwide reputation for this sort of musical composition. He also made a great hit in America and England as a singer, and one of his entertainments. "The Far West," undoubtedly stimulated emigration to the United States and Canada. His "Life on the Ocean Wave" is the official march of the royal marines by order of the British admi-

Dr. Russell is the father of W. Clark Russell, who has won such fame as a writer of sea tales.

Alligators' Teeth In Trade.

In 1590 about 250 pounds of alligator teeth were sold, hunters receiving from $1 to $2 a pound for them. They are removed by burying the heads and rotting out the teeth. Of the best teeth about 70 make a pound.

Dissatisfied Railronders.

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 22,-The discontent among the employes of the Western New York and Pennsylvania system does not abate, and it is known that secret meetings have been held to consider the advisability of a general strike. The emploves feel that the 10 per cent reduction should be restored. It is more than probable that a general tie up will be maugurated on the whole system if their demands are not granted Cleveland and the Third Term.

Sr. Louis, Nov. 23 -Hon, J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, said: "Why should President Cleveland be opposed to a third term any more than a bank president? This is not staring that President Cleveland is a candidate for a third term, for as to that no one knows but himseli. The management of the government is a business, as is the management of a bank. If a bank president has proven hims if competent and faithful he is re elected, not only once or twice, but dozens of times. If a bank president is elected in, by times why should it not be so with the president of the United States?"

Convicted of Mauslaughter.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 23.-Frank Freehill, who on March 2 shot and killed Po liceman Alfred E. Jewell at Rahway, was yesterday convicted of manslaughter. Freehall and a number of tramps were trespassers on Pennsylvania railroad property. A posse of police drove them from the property and pursued them, when Frechill shot Policeman Jewell. A kit of safe burglars' tools was found on Freehill when he was arrested.

Mr. Spurgeon as a Smoker.

The Rev. W. Williams, in his "Personal Reminiscences of C. H. Spurgeon," tells an anecdote concerning the great preacher as a smoker. Some gentleman wrote to Mr. Spurgeon, saying "he had heard he smoked and could not believe it true. Would Mr. Spurgeon write and tell him if it really was so? The reply sent was as follows: "Dear ---, I cultivate my flowers and burn my weeds. Yours truly, C. H. Spurgeon."-Westminster Gazette.

Constipation, that stores up in the body substances long since worse than unless to the body and a menace to the health, is looked after. Any one troubled with this obstinate hindrance to health will find a positive and lasting cure in Paine's celery compound.

It takes a very short time to settle any doubt on the matter by giving Paine's celery compound a trial.

Mr. John Holland, whose portrait is given above, is a parlor car conductor, whose home is in Jersey City. He writes:

"I wish to give my testimony of the great benefit Paine's celery com-pound has done me. A year ago I deranged nervous system.

The cure lay in attending to the very weak. I grew very nervous nutrition of the whole system. This and could not sleep. I was tired when I went to bed. I have taken four bottles of Paine's celery comknown to science—Paine's celery have sent six bottles to some friends compound, the one great remedy in Virginia. One, although he has taken only a bottle of it, feels much better and sleeps well!"

Paine's celery compound puts the systems on a healthy, strong basis, ea e from disease. Try it if you are alling, and a trial will speedily convince you.

Republican statesmen, of both great and small reputation, have been doing a good deal of talking since election, and it is most curious to fied all of them of one mind,namely, that the incoming Congress Hence they predict a short session and only routine work. Before the ballots were cast they told the people the country was going to the devil, twenty yard line, but it was quickly and that it would continue to do so returned to Princeton's twenty-five unless they were given control of | yard lin Congress. Now that they have the Congress they say they are powerless to do anything short of two years hence, and not then unless they have a man in the White House who will do their bidding. Had this sort of talk been indulged in before the balloting there might have been a differ. ly, have reasoned that if the country was bound to go to the dogs for two years it might as well continue on that path under a Democratic as a Ropublican Congress.

All doubt as to the election of Martin J. Keogh as Justice of the Supreme Court for this district was for a mandamus requiring the Board of Canvassers of Queens county to throw out the Gleacon or Battle Axe ballots voted in Long Island City. Judge Gaynor says that the ballots were prepared and furnished by the County Clerk, after the Supreme Court had held that the Democratic State and judicial tickets were law-July placed under the Gleason emblem. The gist of the decision is in the following words: "The State cannot take unto itself the providing of the only ballots which the voters may use, and then disfranchise the voters for having used the ballots which it furnished." This seems like good law. It certainly is common sense.

THE EAST MAIN STREET PAVING

Jo n Orr Beveling Brick on His Own Account - The Catskill Brick Co.s

The paving of the south side of East Main street was finished late yesterday afternoon.

To-day the space between the tracks is being paved. The best of the "beveled" brick are being used. but there are only a few of the brick that are "beveled" in half-way decent shape, and so John Orr is "beveling" others by chipping off corners and so the work is going on.

It don't much matter though, it's Harris, of the Catskill Brick Company, has said that he'll take up the imperfect brick, next spring, and 'relay the whole business" with gilt-edged brick that will fit the rails, That settles it. What Harris says goes-with our Republican Aldermen. Bismillah!

Several members of Hollman Jervie, last evening, as guests of Port Jervis Lodge, No. 328. The third degree was conferred, D. D. G. M. Combs assisting in the work. Lodges from Honesdale, Hawley, Monticello, Monroe and other places were represented. Those present from this city were District Deputy W. M. Combs, W. M. Julius Korn. and brothers I. Lipield, J. A. Ketcham and Frank T. Smith.

THE 24TH'S RECEPTION.

A Fair Attendance and a Very [Pleas ant Time-Out of Town Quests.

The annual reception of the 24th Separate Company was held at the armory, last evening, and while the attendance was not as large as on former occasions, a thoroughly enjoyable evening was had.

The spacious drill hall was beautifully decorated in the national colors and it never presented a more attractive appearance. The musicians occupied a large platform erected in the centre of the floor and surrounded and beautified by a brilliant display of cut flowers and potted plants from Firnhaber's green house.

The music was furnished by the 24 h Separate Company's orchestra of ten pieces. The orchestra gave general satisfaction, and the fact was fully demonstrated that hereafter it will not be necessary to send out of town for music, no matter how "swell" the occasion may be.

Among the guests from out of town were: Miss Halstead and Miss Clara Reeve, of Goshen; Miss Mead, of Johnson; Mr. Chas. LaRose, of Albany, and the following members of the 10th Separate Company, of Newburgh: Lieut. W. H. Mapes, Quartermaster Sergeant D. W. Jagger, Sergeant E. H. Woodio, Privates H. W. Hopper and J. H. THE MILK FREIGHT CASE.

THE RAILROADS PRESENT THEIR DEFENSE OF A UN'FORM TARIFF.

John J. Reattle. Counsel for the Lebigh and Hudson, Opens the Hailroad Case-The Lackawanna's Counsel Defends the Westcott Contract-Frestdent Crinnell Burt and Other Bailroad Onidals Testify.

The railroad companies had their inclogs in the milk freight hearing before the Inter-State Commerce Commission, in New York, yester-

John J. Beattie, counsel for the Lehigh and Hudson, made the argument. He insisted that the farmers could not be as poor and distressed as had been intimated or they could not employ such expens ve counsel He said that distance and hauls governed ordinary freight rates, but that the milk traffic was so peculiar in its necessities that it demanded the maintenance of the uniform rate under which the business had been nurtured and maintained.

PROFITS OF THE WESTCOTT CONTRICT. J. S. Milburn, counsel for the Lackawanna, argued that the Westcott contract with that road did not yield excessive profits since Mr. Westcott had increased the road's milk business from 140,000 cans in 1886 to 1,600,000 cans in 1894 He argued that the milk business since it required special facilities was analagous to the express business.

PRESIDENT BURT'S TESTIMONY.

President Grinnell Burt, of the Lehigh and Hadson, was the first witness called by the railroad companies. In answer to Judge B-attic's question he said that his road, originally the Warwick Valley road. was built between 1859 and 1862 and was the second branch of the Erie built in Orange county. It was constructed principally for the trans- at 4:19 p. m., will take or mail for portation of milk from that district points west of Pert Jervis. newed laughter) Q-How do you justify the fact that you make more profit on milk than on any other article you carry? A -Well, we have never heard any complaints from consumers.

Q-Then you think that the price Bush, of Middletowr. of freights depends upon the interests of consumers? A.-Certainly; the consumer is first, and comes before everything.

Q - Because your coal rates do not pay, I suppose you make up for it on milk? A -In a measure that is so. OTHER RAILROAD CYCICIALS TE TIFY

N. A. Wilcox, general freight agent of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Company; Samuel Coykendall, president of the Uister and Delaware Company, and Percy R. Todd, general freight agent of the West Snore Railroad, each gave evidence as to the special and costly facilities which their respective roads gave to the milk traffic. The hearing was then adjourned until this morning, Commissioner Morrison announcing that after today the Commissioners would be unable to hear further testimony until next month.

The Cidert Railroad President

It is probable that in the matter of continuous service, the Hon. Grinnell Burt, of Warwick, is the oldest railroad president in the United States He has been for thirty-seven years President of the Warwick Valley and Lehigh and Hudson roads, and bechitis, typhoid fever, and persistent | sides has been at the head of other roads.

A PRECEDENT

"But don't you think," said I to Miss Hewitt, "that the end justifies the means?" She shook her head. "Oh, no," she said, "that's Jesuitical!" "Well, now, here's an example," I suggested. "You are anxious to sell the contents of this stall, aren't you?" "Oh, yes!" responded Miss Hewitt. "And you would be delighted if some one were to come and buy it all up? It would be of such use to the charity." 'Certainly,' said Miss Hewitt promptly. "And would vex Miss Chudleigh over the way?" I added. Miss Hewitt looked at me with suspicion, but I'm sure I was very demure. "Oh, it would be nice, of course, to be successful, "she assented. "It would mean £50." "May I trouble you for another ice?" said I, feeling that I was bound to do something after that. "Thank you—strawberry! Well, as I was saying, if you could find a means of getting rid of all this, and thereby benefiting the charity by so much, you would feel disposed to take it, even if it wasn't quite—well—quite, you know." "I wouldn't do anything dishonest," put in Miss Hewitt quickly. "Oh, I wasn't talking of anything dishonest," I protested. "I was only thinking that there might be other means, not dishonest, you know, but just a little-well, not quite conventional, you know." "What sort of means?" asked Miss Hewitt curiously. "Why, now," I said, "you have sold very little all the day, haven't you?" Miss Hewitt bit her lips, and a disconsclate look came into her face. "While I've been here," I said, you have only disposed of two pairs of steckings, one woolen comforter for the hot weather and a sort of-a kind of-I didn't quite see, but I thought it looked like a—" 'I know I haven't sold much," broke in Miss Hewitt hastily, and with a slight accession of color.

"You have only bought a few ices." I looked meditative. "So I have," I said, feeling that another call was made upon me. "I wonder if I might—no perhaps better not. I suppose you haven't such a thing as a baby's perambulator, Miss Hewitt?" Miss Hewitt was not amused. She had only an eye to a bargam. "No," she said eagerly, "I'm afraid I haven't, but I've got a very nicely dressed cradle, and some rattlesand"- "Ah." said I, shaking my head, 'I'm afraid it's not old enough for those things." She sighed and glanced across the way, where Miss Chudleigh was en-Middletown gaged in a roaring trade. "I think I might have one more ice," I said very bravely. It was not so very hard, after all. The heat was very great, and they soon melfed.

Miss Hewitt was very nice about it. Are you sure you ought to?" she asked doubtfully. "Miss Hewitt," said I, "you are much too scrupulous. That is the reason of your failure. And yet you would have sold me a cradle and rattles with perfect equanimity, knowing that I am a bachelor. The inconsistency of your sex is a puzzle," I remarked, shaking my head. "Oh, but I didn't think about that!" she said, with a blush. "I only thought you wanted"- "Come. then," I said, "what would you do to get rid of all your articles of commerce?" Miss Hewitt's eyes opened. Oh, if I could only do that!" she exclaimed. "Well, how far would you be prepared to go for it?" said I insinuatungly. She paused. "I'd-I'd give up the ball tonight," she exclaimed impulsively. I shook my head. "I have no means of gauging the value of that re-unctiation," I said thoughtfully, "but possibly it is greater than the one I know which would enable you to sell your stall." "Oh, do you know a way?" cried she broathlessly. "Why, certainly." said i, still reflectively. "Mr. Randali, tell me," she pleaded, clasping her hands and putting her elbows on the stall. She looked eagerly into my face. I really had no notion until that moment, but somehow her action put it into my head. "Have you ever heard of the beautiful Duchess of Devoushire,

Miss Hewitt?" I asked. Miss Eewitt leaned, staring at me for a moment, and then a look of intelligence came into her eyes, her color started, and she moved away. "I don't think you should make that kind of jest," she remarked disdainfully. "It's not a jest," I answered reassuringly. "Then yon're all the horrider," she returned, feiguing to be busy with her commerce. 'But," I said in perplexity, "I don't -ee-I only a-ked you if you remembered the Duchess of Devenshire-the one What's-his-name painted, you know." Miss Hewitt was much embarrassed. Her face took on many expressions. 'But you"- she began and stopped. 'Do you remember her"' I asked. "Of course," said Miss Hewitt snappishly. 'Well, ther," I said, "why am I horrid" She paid me no attention, but began shifting thathings upon the stall in a reckless way "Oh," I exclaimed suddealy, "Is a what you were thinking of! You thought I meant-I see now. You thought that I was advising you to sell' - Mass Hewitt got redder than ever. "I didn't think anything of the sort," she exclumed hurriedly and dusting away at nothing, "and I wish yon'd go away if you're not going to buy anything " "I should like another ice, please," said I.

Miss Howitt was somewhat taken aback and looked as if she would like to speak, but she only frowned and damped another ice upon the counter. "But now you have suggested it,' I went on, considering, "it's not at all a bad idea." Miss Hewitt moved to the faction end of the stall and sold another pair of stockings "It's quite worth thinking of," I said when sho we within hearing again. "I am glad you mantiened it ' "I never mentioned anything," she reterted horly "Va, of course you didn't mention it." I agreed, "but I don't see why you should be angry, becids we are discussing calmly!—

I in not discussing anything,' she of cived tartly. "No," said I, "but if

lowing voters to kiss her I don't think you should be offended if, for the sake of an excellent charity"— "I am not the Duchess of Devonshire," said Miss Hewitt shortly. "I don't suppose," I said, "that it was much of a kiss." Miss Hewitt's nostrils curled in scorn. 'Good people are always so particular,' I said philosophically. Miss Hewitt's indignation broke forth. "Do you suppose, Mr. Randall," said she sarcastically, "that one would allow any one that wished to"— "Oh, I never said any one," I interrupted hastily. "No; certainly not any one." She looked at me with undisguised hauteur. I glanced about the stall. "I should like to have a lot of those things," I said. "I could send them to a children's hospital, you know." Miss Hewitt's face relaxed slightly. "They would be very useful," she said. "It would be £50, wouldn't it?" I asked, as if entering on a calculation. "Yes," said Miss Hewitt, with a little show of excitement; "£45 if any one took the lot." I fingered in my pocket and hesitated. "I'm afraid" said I. "You see, I forgot I had promised to buy a quantity of flowers for the infirmary," I remarked, glancing at Miss Chudleigh's stall. Miss Hewitt's face fell, but she said nothing. I took out my pocketbook and extracted some notes, dividing my looks between the two stalls in a hesitating way. "I think the children in the hospital would like the toys very much," said Miss Hewitt nervously. "Yes; they could play with the stockings nicely, couldn't they?" said I. She paid no heed to this remark. "I wonder if Miss Chudleigh would do what the duchess did?" I observed presently. "Perhaps you had better ask her," said Miss Hewitt sareastically. "Oh, no! I said hurriedly. "I was only wondering. For the sake of the poor, people do make sacrifices, I suppose." "I don't believe she did let them—let them kiss her," remarked Miss Hewitt, after a pause and contemplating a wooden horse. "Don't you?" I asked, looking up. "What did they do, do you ing up. "What did they do, do you think?" Miss Hewitt examined the toy carefully. "Oh, she said indifferently, "I should think she merely pretended." "Pretended?" I echoed. "Yes; they only kissed—just—not quite—I mean they didn't really touch her," she explained. with more interest in the horse. I considered this. "But some of them," I objected, "would not have been content to be put off that way. They must have really"— "Oh, if any one liked to be rude and take advantage like that," she said disdainfully, "she couldn't help it, poor thing!" "No." I assented, "I suppose she couldn't, and she must have hated it all the time." "Of course she did," said Miss Hewitt, now inspecting a doll. "But she did it out of a sense of duty-to benefit her country," I concluded. "A man would never have been so unselfish," said Miss Hewitt. "Never," I said emphatically. "But do you think that women are capable of such an act of self sacrifice in these days?" I asked. "Of course," said Miss Hewitt, watching some people go by with great interest, "if—if they only—only pretended to." "But if there was an accident?" I ventured. Miss Hewitt apparently did not hear this, "Do you really think," I persisted, "that a womau-a girl-would do a thing like that?" "She wouldn't-she couldn't-of course the duchess did not let it pretend to be done-in-betore any one else." "Not, for example, in a room like this?" I said, looking round the bazzar. "How, then?" "Afterward," murmured Miss Hewitt, bending down to pick up a pin, I suppose "Ob," I said, "she would only prom. . . ('en." Miss Hewitt said nothing. I rose. "Well, I'm afraid I must be really going," I said, holding out my hand. "I think if she were really houest she would have to keep her

I looked at her, but she was not looking at me. "I think you have given me two waltzes tonight," I observed. "It isn't very generous usage." "I'm sure it's quite enough," said Miss Hewitt firmly. "Well, at any rate, let us sit out the second," I suggested. Miss Hewitt looked at me in surprise. "I thought you liked dancing," she said innocently. "Oh, sometimes!" I said. "But we might have a talk in the conservatory. It's sure to be very hot." "Do you think it 18?" said she. "Certain." "Oh, we'll see!" said she nonchalantly. I turned to go. "By the way," said I, leaning on the stall confidentially, "shall I leave you the £50 now? And then you can send the things to the hospital at once, you know. Miss Hewlitt avoided my eye. "I didn't know," she began and broke off. "Perhaps it would be better," she murmured. I offewd my hand "Tonight, then," I said. She did look at me at last, but it was crite by accident-just the sort of accident that happened in the conservatory. -- H. B. Marriett-Watson in Black and White

She-Oh, very-on the new woman!-Scottish Cyclist.

She Has a Grievance.

She is an observing little mortal, and she knows her own mind. She has been subjected to all the osculatory annoyances that pretty children have to put up with, and she is as heartily sick of them as the average child usually is. Every one seems to feel that he or she has a license to kiss a pretty child in this world without giving the least thought to the rights of the child in the premises. This little girl, however, has noticed that no such infliction is imposed upon her older sister, and it has made her jealous.

"Mamma, she said one day, "I wish I was big."

"How big?" "As big as Mamie." she replied, referring to her sister.

"Why?" inquired the mother. " 'Cause Mamie has a lot better time than I do. Everybody doesn't want to kiss Mamie.

"How do you know they don't?" "Well, she don't have to let 'em, anyway, if she don't want to.'

"Are you sure about that?" asked the mother, somewhat amused. "Course I am. She can talk right back to any one who kisses her, and it ain't impolite at all, but if I did it I'd be pun-"Ethei!" broke in Mamie, with a warning shake of the head.

"Well, you can," protested Ethel, "and it ain't fair. All the old grannies don't even try to kiss you like they do me-only the nice looking young men, and you can send them about their business if you want to. I guess I heard you tell that man with the black mustache who was here last night that he ought to be ashamed of him-elf, and you know what would happen to me if I said anything like that just because somebody kissed me."-Chicago Post.

Coasting Extraordinary.

A "century" fiend passed the little grocery, and, Ulting his feet from the pedals. prepared to coast down the hill. The man with the ginger beard rubbed some of the grime from the window pane and stood watching him. "That dude allows he's something fine," said the man with the ginger beard, "but ef he knowed I rode thataway once 80 mile in 80 minutes I guess he wouldn't be so stuck on hisself.' "Git out,", said the grocer. "They ain't a hill 80 mile long in all the whole world.' said "I didn't say nothin about a hill." the man with the ginger beard. "The way it happened was this: I wuz out in Californy before the war and had a old fashioned velocipede. None of these here pneumatic tires in them days-jist wood an iron. Waall, I was rollin along the perrary, when all of a sudden I feels the earth kinder hump up behind me-earthquake, you knew; common thing our there-and I finds myself ridin down hill on that hump. It may sound to any one ignerent of the mighty processes of nature in the wild west like a lie, but it is a fact that the angle of that there hump was so even set with the rate the quake was travelin that I jest set there an rode down hill on the level for 80 mile before the thing stopped."

A report like that of a pistol was heard. The man from Potato creek looked out and saw the coaster at the bottom of the hill with an exploded tire.

"By gosh" said the man from Potato creek. "That feller is a full 100 yards from here too. I hadn't no idea them yarns of yours would act that fur. -Buffalo Express.

An Intelligent Witness.

A witness in court who had been cautioned to give a precise answer to every question and not to talk about what he might think the question meant was interrogated as follows:

"You drive a wazon?" "No, sir. I do not." "Why, sir, did you not tell my learned friend so this moment?" "No, sir, I did not."

"Now, sir. I put it to you on your oath, Do you driv a wagon?

"No, sir." "What is your occupation, then?" "I drive a horse,"-Waterbury.

Longevity of Ants.

Sir John Lubbock, the naturalist, who has done more to popularize the study of insect ways and habits than all the other modern entomologists combined, has been experimenting to find cut how long the common ant would live if kept out of harm's way. On Aug. 8, 1888, an aut which had been thus kept and tenderly cared for died at the age of 15 years, which is the greatest age any species of insect has yet been known to attain. Another maividual of the same spreces of ant (Formica fusca) aved to the Advanced age of 13 years, and the queen of another kind (Lasius mger hard fertile eggs after she had passed the age of 9 years.—St. Louis Republic.

The Bevil's Cap.

In medlaval dramas the part of the devil was always played in a pointed red cap, with two side points or tassels. So much importance was attached to this cap that on one occasion, in France. an actor refused to play, and the entertailment was postponed because his "devil's cap" had been stolen and it was impossible to play the part of satan without a proper headpiece.

Goshen, Nov. 22-By far the most important document which has yet come before the Board of Supermorning, by the committee appointed last year to investigate the fearithe unused buildings at Orange Farm into a workhouse. This document bears directly on the question -of the employment of prisoners con-Sined in our county institutions. The committee was Messrs. Patterson, of Woodbury; Loughran, of Walden, and Bradley, of Wawayanda. The report was declared by Mr. Adams, of Newburgh, to be the most complete ever submitted to the Board since he has been a member of that body, and the committee was highly complimented upon it. The Board asked that it be furnished in full to the papers. It is clear, concise, full, argumentative and speaks for itself. Here is the document entire:

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT

On Weonesday, Dec. 5, 1894, at a regular session of the Board of Supervisors, and upon motion of John A. Patterson, a committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility and practicability of turning the unused buildings into a workhouse. The Chairman appointed as such committee Messrs. Patterson, Loughran and Bradley.

The committee after consultation came to the conclusion that this was a matter of great importance to the county? county of Orange, not only in putting in use buildings which had cost of New York in taking away from us 1 prisoners amounted to $35,5390 90, our county insane, but it also gave leaving a deficiency of $2,440.14. the committe an opportunity to investigate the leasibility of putting to work acores of criminals who were incarcerated in our jails and penitentiary and who were living at their case at the expense of the taxpayers of the county as our system now exists.

The question then arose, what shall we do with them? Can we c. m. pel them to work? Can we derive a remuneration from their labors that will benefit the county and at the same time not conflict with the avo cation of the workingman, and could we use the county insane building?

THE LAW AS TO WORKHOUSES.

The committee first investigated the law and found that under the law of 1891, chapter 277, the Board of Supervisors of any county may establish and maintain a workhouse for the confinement of persons conimprisonment and employment officer may sentence such persons to such workhouse instead of the courty jail.

Ascertaining that the law was in our favor, we max proceeded to investigate several workhouses in this vicinity and eatisfy ourselves that we were on the right road leading to an improvement for our county's benefit. Our first visit was to Snake Hill penitentiary, Hudson county, N. J. Here we found a system for employing convicts which we believe to convict labor in our State, i.e., the crushing of stone for highways. The question of better roads is being agitated in our State and even our county appointed a committee to investigate the matter of improvement in our road system. Better roads mean a new system of working them. They mean new material with which to make them better, and the county must take the initiative step before a new system is employed, but this question we will consider

THE STARE HILL PENITENTIARY.

We will, however, endeavor to give vou a sypopers of what we saw and learned at Snake Hill. Chosen Free colders, (who are Super- chased from a private quarry and devisors in our county). After intro livered to the jail authorities. Their ducing cured was we were hospitably ast contract was for stone delivered and were given the freedom of the institution. We were placed in charge of Mr. John Grimes, the Warden, with explicit instructions to permit us to make a thorough investigation of anything and everything pertaining to the institution. We desire through our report to thank Mr. Grimes for his courteous treatment of us. He took special pains to give us all the information we desired, and from our interview with him very valuable information was gleaned which will be of great assistance in making up our report, and our recommendations to this Board.

VERY DIFFERENT FROM COUNTY JAILS We found in this institution several hundred convicts, the majority, of course, being males. The institution being under strict discipline, no drones or laggards being allowed. the convicts doing the work, cooking, washing and cleaning the buil 1ings, which inside and out were as clean as soap and water could make them. There were no offensive odors such as greet the visitor in county jails and how different, we noted, from the jails where smoking, card playing and general idleness is allowed and even courted!

In connection with this institution and in the same enclosure is a large stone quarry (not unlike the Orange Farm quarry) and two stone crushers, both worked by steam power, -one visors was the report submitted, this at work at all times. The quarry as well as the crushers was worked by the convicts with the exception of bility and practicability of turning the engineer. The convicts worked in gangs of fourteen with one keeper in charge, who was responsible for the return of the prisoners. They worked ten hours a day with one hour intermission. At all times when not at work the convicts were locked in their cells. Good and wholesome fold was given the prisoners and although a hospital was attached to the penitentiary, the Warden informed us that they had no use for it. The convicts were all dressed in a distinct uniform, the garmants and shoes being made by convicts.

ALMOST SELF-SUPPORTING. We submit to you a brief synopsis

of the Warden's report.
The total cost of provisions for convicts during year was $11,838 53
Olothing 3,001 32
Miscellaneous 2,549 32
Salaries 14 787 94
Coal 5,792 81

Total..... $ 39 970 04 The average daily per capita cost for convicts was 49 1 9 cents, or about $2.88 per week, and that the actual f cost of feeding said prisoners was 91/2 a centalday, or 66 cents per week. For these expenditures what did the prisoners do to reimburse the

They crushed 12,848 yards of stone, at a value of $14,06265. They imthe taxpayers $30,000 or more, and proved the penitentiary grounds at had been made entirely worthless by an actual cost of $18 391. The whole an act of the Legislature of the State | amount of labor performed by the

THE TRUE SYSTEM.

In the Warden's report he says: In presenting my report, estimating the money value of labor performed by the prisoners I have not mentioned the amount of work performed by them in improving the grounds, repairing and painting of all roofs, gutters and leaders, building of a new stable, repairs to wagons, harness and stone crushers, painting, and improving the grounds in every way

The Freeholders and Warden Ewere very emphatic in saying that it was the only true system to employ prisoners for a general benefit to the county, as well as to the prisoners ### themselves.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND PENITENTIARY On the 10th day of Septemb r we visited Blackwelt's Island and were very courteously received by Warvicted within the county for crimes | den Pillsbury, who has had 45 years or criminal effenses, the punishment experience in the management of for which is imprisonment in the prisons. Here we also found them county jai, and may provide for the crushing stones from a quarry, but unlike the Snake Hill institution, therein of ail persons sentenced it was crushed by hand. Some two thereto, and any court of judicial or three hundred prisoners are continually employed. A rough board shed was erected in such a manner that it could be enclosed in the winter. The Warden approved of the plan, as it is remunerative to the county, as well as keeping the prisoners busy. He says it also teaches men how to work who never worked before, v z, the trampe and vagrants. No accounts of the expenses or receipts are kept at this institution, as the stone is simply crushed and used on city work, and the primary of jeer be the foundation for future use of is to keep the prisoners employed. About a yard of stone a day for each prisoner is the average. The total expense of keeping a prisoner at this is about 28 cents a day, or about

$1.96 per week. THE PATERSON JAIL.

On the 10th day of October, 1895, we visited the Paterson jail. Here we were also very cordially received by Mr John Buckley, the warden, who very kindly permitted us to make an examination of the jail. All male prisoners worked at stone crusning, and the females do the cooking and washing for the institution. The stone is crushed by hand in the rear of the jail, in a shed with facilities for enclosing in winter, so that the During the month of April, 1895, prisoners are continuously employed. we visited the above institution and | The prisoners also work on the highwere fortunate in arriving on the | ways known as the county roads. At day of the menthly meeting of the this metitution the stone is pur-entertained by the said Freeholders at thirty-nine cents per yard. The Farm, where they may be employed stone is broken and delivered on requisitions of Superintendents throughout the county in the vicir- of the Poor or other proper authority of Paterson, and all the labor is les. performed by prisoners. We were informed by the warden that the plan was working very satisfactorily. We found this institution about the same as ours with a few more prisoners. That the cost per week for each prisoner was $2.69, exclusive of salaries

We have no means of knowing the amount of work done by the prisonere, but we do know that no flaer roads exist in this county than are found in the State of New Jersey, and especially near institutions where they employ convict ia' or. COST OF KEEPING ORANGE COUNTY PRIS-ONERS Let us take a glimpse at the cost of simply feeding our own pulsoners as found in our report of 1894.

Paid Superintendent Albany Penitentiary...... $ 4,191 63 Paid the Sheriff of Ocange County for the board of prisoners ...... 11,772 76

Total ..... $15,964 39 The expense of boarding a prisoner in our jail at the present time is $3 25 per week, or forty-six and threesevenths cents per day.

What are the benefits other than moretary which the county would receive by having our present system changed into a work house sys-

IDLENESS BEGETS WICKEDNESS.

Firstly idleness begets wickedness. Confine a man in jail with nothing to do and his mind is continually at work concecting some plan of escape or some plan of future depredation, and, if evilly inclined, it is some scheme against law and order. Card playing being his chief occupation he is more apt to continue it when free. Keep a man busy all day with some good, healthy occupation, his meals and his time of arising and retiring regular, at the expiration of his term, he is in good condition to work. A jail that is kept warm in winter and with nothing for the prisoners to do, gathers together scores of persons who, rather than work, will commit some small depredation in order to get a warm place for the cold months.

COST OF COMMITTING A PRISONER.

And to the taxpayer what does that mear? His arrest and conviction by a justice at an expense of from $3 to $5. Expense of constable $3.00; Sheriff charges 75 cents for locking him up, and $3 25 for his board, and the expense of the prisoner for the first week is from $10 to $12. If he is sent to Albany you may add $20 more to the expense.

If the same man knows he will have to work while serving his sentence he will not be so apt to desire to be arrested and convicted as a tramp or vagrant. They do not as a rule care to work of their own free will. Thus we believe that the county save in this one way alone Under our present system it does seem to us that with idleness and luxury in our jails prisoners are rewarded for crime.

FAVOR THE WORK HOUSE SYSTEM.

We believe that the work house system, by which criminals may be usefully employed, will have a tendency to serve the coummunity at large in teaching industry and manual skill. It will also give out door life and exercise and would benefit the health and morals of the prisoners. As this system would be a new one to our county and experimental in a degree, we would not recommend at this time the use of the present insane building for a work house.

THE COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS

But we do recommend as follows: That the county procure a lot in Goshen and build cheap, but proper sheds or buildings for the use of the convicts with proper facilities and tools to break stone by hand.

That the quarry at Ocange Farm be opened by the convicts and the atone conveyed either by rail or wagon to said work house. That the county support its own prisoners as soon as practicable.

That a warden be appointed who shall have charge of the prisoners; that the prisoners do all the work in erecting or keeping in repair or cleaning the county buildings, either at Goshen, Newburgh or Orange

No Nerves Quaking No Heart Palpitating No Dyspeptic Aching

We would also recomment that the prisoners daily keep the jail in a condition of cleanliness in every re-

That the prisoners be compelled to work upon Orange Farm in any capacity, when a requisition is sent by the Superintennents of the Poor, to the warden or other proper person in charge.

We would also recommend that the stone when crushed be sold to the cities and towns entitled to it at a price which will be equitable and just to all purchasers,

That a committee be appointed with power to carry the above resolution into effect.

JOHN A. PATTERSON, I. H. LOUGHRAN, Com. J. I. BRADLEY,

When Mr. Loughran had finished reading the above Mr. Adams moved that it be laid on the table for the present in order that it may be made a special order for some future day and asked that the taxpayers be invited to be present and take part in the discussion of it. So ordered. Here are some amounts added to the rolls of the several towns: Warwick, $400; Cornwall, $2,568 34 for town audits, $361 for roads and bridges; Blooming Grove, $1,517.89, audits, $300, relief of poor, $500, roads and bridges; Montgomery, $250 roads and bridges, $2,426,49, audits, $3,-924 30, bridge bonds, $1,065, money borrowed, $2,140, railroad bonds; Wallkill, $1,439.51, audits, $250, roads and bridges.

The County Treasurer's bond was fixed at $150,000. Chairman Boyd stated that the managers of the Kings Co. penitentiary would board prisoners as follows: Two dollars and twentyfive cents for less than three months, $3 from three to six months and $1.75 for all terms over six months. This matter, with power to act, was referred to Mr. Brazee's committee.

Messrs. Brown, Denniston and G. A. Durland were appointed to agportion $1,250 bridge money and $5,000 for Chamber Creek bonds between the City of Newburgh and the town of New Wingsor.

The Board adjourned until Monday at 11 a. m.
